We, the editors, have tried to make this year's Annual definitely a student book—a book of the students, by the students, and for the students. To symbolize our theme we have created two characters, Mary Oak Park and John River Forest, who are typical of our student body. Throughout the book they can be seen taking part in the many and varied opportunities that our school offers. By participation in the different fields, Administration, Academics, Activities, and Athletics, they gain much enviable experience.

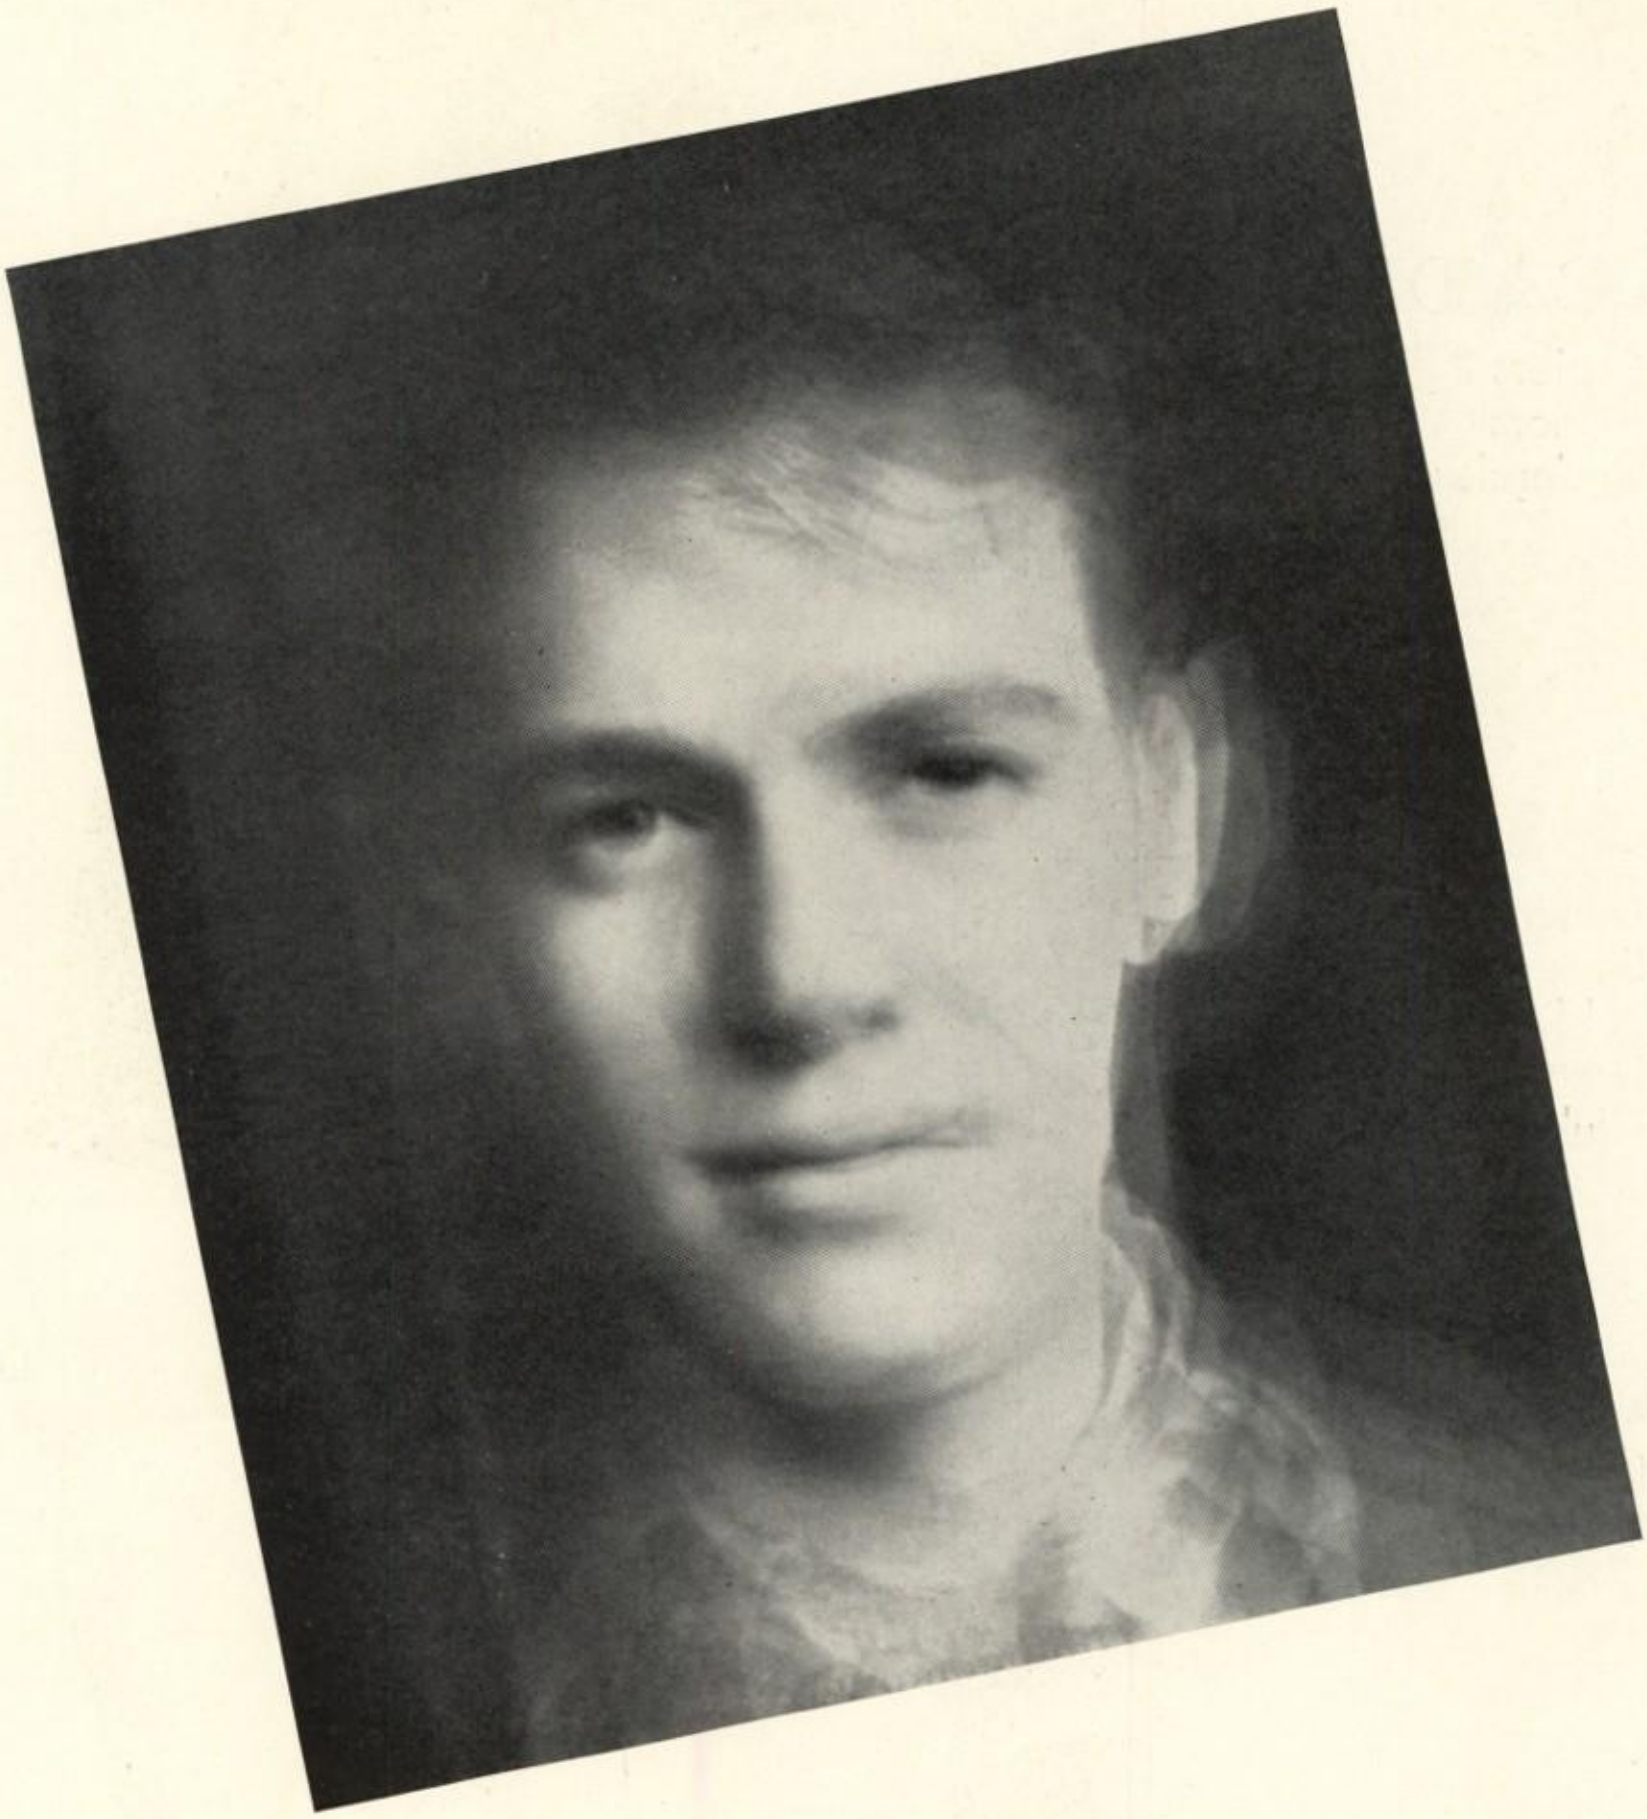
DEDICATION

TO YOU, THE BOYS AND GIRLS WHO ARE THE SCHOOL,
THIS TABULA IS DEDICATED



These two portraits are composite photographs; that is, they are single pictures made by printing the individual photographs of a large number of boys or girls in the same position on the paper. The finished products represent average students of the Oak Park and River Forest High School.

FACULTY

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT

During the twenty-six years of Mr. McDaniel's administration, our school has not only broadened the scope of its activities, but has also furthered its nation-wide reputation for high scholastic standing. For his tireless efforts on our behalf, we extend to him our whole-hearted appreciation.

THE DEANS

MR. BOBBITT
MISS BLACKBURN
MISS BENNETT
MR. KETCHAM
MR. O'BRIEN
MISS WECKEL

MR. FRITZEMEIER
MISS ORCUTT
MR. METCALF

Much of the progress that we have made during high school can be attributed to the help and advice given us by the deans. Their fields of work have become so extensive that this year it was necessary to have assistants for the junior-senior deans. Miss Orcutt was appointed to help Miss Bennett, and Mr. Metcalf to help Mr. Bobbitt. Mr. Fritzemeier also joined the advisory staff as Placement Director.

AND FACULTY

PUBLIC SPEAKING

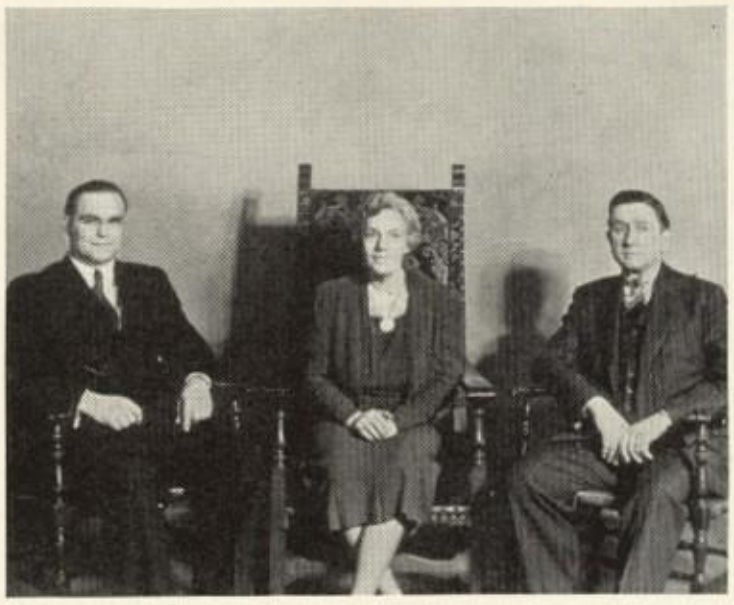
The aim of the Public Speaking Department is to encourage pupils to speak effectively. Each boy and girl realizes from recitation experiences how difficult it is to arrange thoughts and properly express them before an audience. Bodily expression is emphasized as a part of effective presentation.

Mr. Ramsay (Head)
Miss Lounsbury

MUSIC

The promotion of an interest for music, and the teaching of an appreciation of good music are the aims of the Music Department. The accomplishment of these aims is shown with the presentation of the semi-annual festivals at Christmas and in the spring. These festivals are highspots of the year.

Mr. Little
Mrs. Boynton
Mr. Embs (Head)



DRIVING

The Driving Department was organized approximately two years ago so that Oak Park students would become acquainted with the rules and regulations of the highways, and so that they would become safe, careful, and courteous drivers. Alertness, consideration for others, and a wise choice of speed are their watchwords.

Mr. Pinckney

ART

The Art Department has successfully striven to give pupils an appreciation of the beautiful, and the ability to express themselves through the many mediums of line, value, color, form, and texture. That the students have been successful is evidenced by the frequent invitations to exhibit work.

Mr. Watson
Mrs. Eckart (Head)
Miss Clark

SEATED—Mrs. M. Thompson, Miss Burt, Miss Allen, Miss Smith, Miss Ball, Miss DeGroff, Miss Payne.

ENGLISH

Changing conditions in Oak Park and River Forest have brought new problems to the English Department. To make practical adjustment to student interests, the Department is revising its curriculum to meet the individual needs of three classes of students: the college group, the preparation-for-life group, and the slow but intelligent pupils. During the present year the whole staff has experimented with new materials with a view to setting up a program of writing, speaking, and reading, in these three main strands of education.

STANDING—Mr. Gehlmann, Miss Linden, Miss Bothwell, Miss Hardie, Miss Graham, Mrs. Zerwer, Mr. Kimball.

LATIN

This year we again have proof of the excellence of the Latin Department, for in a district competitive examination our students came out on top. This success can be attributed only to their thorough training in translation. Latin students have gained the habit of clear and critical thinking by analyzing the content of the Latin read; they have enlarged and improved their English vocabulary by studying words that have come directly or indirectly from the Latin; they have found a striking similarity between ancient and modern problems, and have found answers for the problems of today from the recorded wisdom of the Romans.

COMMERCIAL

The Commercial Department trains for useful citizenship by preparing our young people to become either self-supporting upon graduation or by increasing their ability to defray their college expenses. Besides the definitely vocational courses in typewriting, stenography, and office machine operation, the work in bookkeeping serves to create an appreciation and understanding of business theory and practice. Courses in economics and commercial law offer a chance for broader development and initiate an interest in the larger affairs to be met in adult life.

HISTORY

The name "Social Studies" is generally applied to this department for the term includes much more than history. The department offers courses in Ancient, Medieval, Modern European History, World History, and American History. Courses in Economics, Civics, and Social problems are also included. The general aim of the department is to acquaint the individual with the world in which he finds himself.

MATHEMATICS

All of the class work in mathematics is designed to emphasize these four points: mathematical subjects constitute an important body of knowledge; they furnish the scientist with a method and the formulas for his work; they furnish all people with an instrument for interpreting our scientific and economic environment; they exhibit a method of thought. The historical and recreational side of the subject is developed by the Newton Club.

SCIENCE

The sciences of the school consist of general science, botany, chemistry, geography, physics, and zoology. This year two non-laboratory advanced sciences, physical and biological, were also given. Dr. Norvil Beeman was appointed head of the Chemistry Department, succeeding Dr. Osborne, under whose leadership exceptional work has always been done in chemistry. Mr. Lyle F. Stewart has directed and developed a program for visual education. A special room has been fitted for this work, and equipment has been purchased for showing silent, sound, opaque, glass slide, and film slide pictures.

MODERN LANGUAGE

There are three modern languages taught in our school: French, Spanish, and German. The teachers of the modern languages believe that they must not limit their activities to teaching the essentials of grammar and the elements of reading, writing, and speaking the language. In an effort to make pupils understand and appreciate the people of other lands, these departments offer, outside of class, assemblies with lectures, plays and movies, a French club, radio programs, and correspondence with students in other countries.

STANDING—Miss Geller, Miss Ball, Mr. E. Thompson, Miss S. Thompson, Miss Miller.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The girls' health and physical education departments have two main objectives. The first is to stimulate high school girls to want habits and attitudes of good health by acquainting them with the information which makes this possible, and stimulating an interest in health conditions of home, community, and country. The second objective is to teach girls to desire an accumulation of a wide variety of physical skills, that they may have many hours of pleasure now, and for the rest of their lives.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The work of the Boys' Physical Education Department can be divided into two sections: regular class work and interscholastic sports. Class work is designed to enlarge the boys' health program. A culmination of the year's work is found in the annual gym exhibit in which about nine hundred boys participate. That the interscholastic program is successful is seen in the fact that each year more and more boys participate as members of the many commendable teams.

STANDING—Mr. Scott, Mr. Noth, Mr. Smith, Mr. Harshbarger.
SEATED—Mr. Wood, Mr. Holmes (Head), Mr. Frantzen, Mr. Souchek.

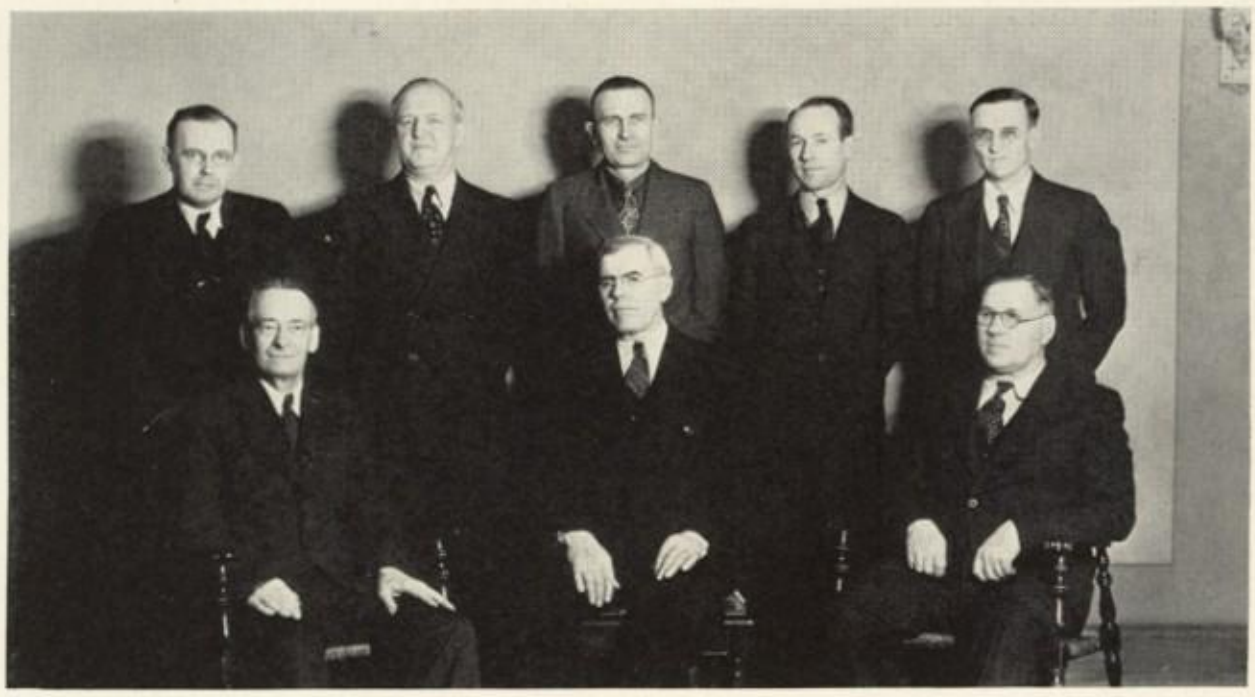
HOUSEHOLD ARTS

Proof of the popularity of the Household Arts courses can be seen in that nearly eight hundred girls enroll in this course yearly. The courses in foods and clothing are designed to offer training for future home makers. They include the study of the source of things used in our everyday lives, of consumer buying relationships, of budgeting and the use of money, of selecting, making and caring for clothes, of food selection and care of the body, and of the appreciation of homes.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Progress in industry makes the goal of industrial arts education ever-changing. Inventions, discoveries, and the blending and processing of basic materials have almost completely revolutionized our modern life. Therefore, our education will not be adequate unless it contains learning about the materials and the processes of industry. This not only enables us to appreciate the many products of industry, but also makes us more intelligent consumers. Many of us will become producers in the field of industry. Our industrial arts department strives to give as much training as possible in a large variety of industrial activities.

STANDING—Mr. Lane, Mr. Paxton, Mr. Brinkman, Mr. Daniels, Mr. Asbury.
SEATED—Mr. Spear, Mr. Taylor (Head), Mr. Chandler.



STANDING—Miss McCallum, Miss Babcock.

OFFICE

There are two divisions of the office staff: one that deals directly with the students, and another that takes care of all the financial matters concerning the school. They both function with exceptional smoothness. The former gives the students the immediate attention that they desire, and the latter, under the direction of Mr. Ticktin, is managed so capably that the rest of the school is never bothered with the worries of financial management.

LIBRARY

The library differs from the other school departments in that it serves the entire student body and faculty. This would be impossible if it were not for the fine spirit of cooperation existing beween student and staff. It has a wide range of activities which vary from giving instruction in the proper use of library and books to individual research. About one thousand of the students make use of the library each day. Student aids give assistance to the librarians by serving at the desk, shelving books and by doing other routine work.

SECOND ROW—Anderson, Bowman, Preucel, Markee, Woodruff, Faulds.
FRONT ROW—Miss Bennett, Brown, Hulburt, Ellett, Hollingsworth.

Girls' Club is primarily a service club. Its first aim is to create a spirit of friendliness among the girls. It also serves by sponsoring social service projects. These projects include a tag day, the proceeds of which are used to purchase Christmas stockings for poor children, and the selling of Easter seals to help crippled children. This year Girls' Club joined with the Amity School Children's Aid in sponsoring a show, "The Goose Hangs High." Their share of the proceeds from the play were used to help defray the expense of the Tabula. All girls of the school are invited to attend the meetings of the club which range from a spirited Senior-Freshman party to serious discussions on vocations and college plans. To govern these varied activities, a council is appointed by Miss Bennett. The president is elected by the girls of the senior class, and the council itself elects the other officers.

Secretary .....Barbara Ellett
Treasurer .....Irene Hollingsworth

BACK ROW—Lehman, Heald, Shorey, Farlinger, Shay, B. Walker.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student government is represented by the Student Council. This august body is composed of eighteen members, four from each of the lower classes, and six from the Senior class. This year the council's activities have been centered about the raising of relief money for China, and the organization of student monitors for the lunch room.

JUNIOR COUNCIL

The Junior class places a big responsibility on twenty of its members by electing them to the Junior Council. It is the duty of the council not only to direct the election of their class officers, but it is up to them to put on a successful Junior Prom, to entertain Senior guests. If this year's prom is an omen of the work of the class of '40, they are sure to go far.

SMOKING COUNCIL

One form of student government existing in this school is the Smoking Council. It is one school organization at whose meetings none of the faculty is present. The primary purpose of this body is to enforce student-made laws regulating smoking. Students found smoking within set bounds are tried, and if convicted, the council determines the punishment.

SAFETY COUNCIL

The aim of the Safety Council is to prevent recklessness on the part of high school students. From time to time safety bulletins are distributed in the home rooms as a step in their campaign. This year their efforts have been directed toward the prevention of running in the halls, the reducing of street parking of student's cars, and the prevention of reckless driving. Weekly articles in the Trapeze, graphs, and posters have kept students informed of the work of the council.

BOYS' STANDING—LeGros, Shay, Spaulding.
SEATED—Engstrom, Coe.

GIRLS' BACK ROW—Hulburt, Oldfield.

CONFERENCES

Several times during the year the old spirit of rivalry between Oak Park and Proviso is broken down when the boys and girls have a general get-together at their respective conferences. These include banquets, discussions of problems of current interest, inspiring speakers and ceremonials. The Girls' conference also plans a May breakfast at which a queen and her attendants are chosen. Jointly the conferences plan an annual peace conference and an Easter Sunrise Service.

No finer name than Lincoln's could be used as the name of a debating club. Lincoln Club has a vigorous program. Besides training for proficiency in matters of parliamentary drill, debate, impromptu talks, and orations, this club takes up projects which occupy much time and study. This year a study of courts and prosecuting was made. A fake murder was committed at the first meeting. The District Attorney rounded up a group of suspects and finally narrowed down to one, namely Bruce Q. Worcester. The selecting of the jury, trying the case before the grand jury, working up a defense, all made an interesting experience and study. Through this make-believe murder and trial all the members of Lincoln Club became familiar with the workings of our court system.

In matters of regular routine the law drill is interesting even if it is less spectacular than the trial. If one should come to room 230 some Tuesday night, he would hear very heated discussions ensuing over delicate questions of parliamentary law. Though many people would make no attempt to answer these queries, Lincoln Club tries and does answer them. When the meeting is ended, and the members are homeward bound, one may still hear the debaters arguing their points, each insisting that he is right.

One of the greatest debaters of all times was Edmund Burke. Hence it is fitting that his name be used for this club. Burke Club is the oldest debating society in the school and one of the finest. Its members spend much time preparing debates and orations. Not only do they benefit by talking before an audience, but they also learn a great deal during the preparation of their talks. Only one who has had to prepare a speech knows the time and effort involved. When a student has written a debate or an oration, he feels like an authority on the subject and has the satisfaction of a job well done. The Burkites, as the members call themselves, have become experts in extemporaneous talks, and parliamentary law, as well as in the more formal debates and orations. The typical meeting is made up of law drill, talks on world problems, serious debate, and very original stunts—topped off by eats. It is considered an honor to belong to this organization of good fellows who spend their time in the study of important issues.

Forum is the oldest girls' debating club in the school, and they have made and maintained an enviable record. Junior and senior girls chosen by the faculty on the basis of merit compose this organization. The main purpose of the club is to develop speaking ability and also to stimulate clear thinking on current matters of importance. Aside from their diligent work on these debates and orations, this year the club collected toys with which to make Christmas a more enjoyable time for the children of the Hephzibah Home. At their Christmas meeting, a program was prepared for the mothers of the girls. The program consisted of a debate, oration, law drill, extemporaneous speeches, and as a finale, a very clever dramatization of "The Night Before Christmas." The programs of this organization vary from year to year but one can be sure that their meetings and activities will be good and so maintain the enviable record they have established.

Free speech has been an ideal that Americans have pursued since the founding of this country. The high school is represented by four debating clubs which carry on this ideal. Gavel is one, and from her ranks many good speakers have risen. The membership of the club is limited to fifty girls, chosen by the faculty on the basis of merit. With this selected group it is no wonder that great things are accomplished. Gavel and the other girls' debating club, Forum, are constantly competing with each other. Once a year the two clubs have a joint meeting in the form of a contest. Each is represented by two debaters. Impromptu talks and law drills are also given by each of the two clubs. These law drills assume great proportions, and one may hear the storm of excited voices when the chairman of the law drill "pulls a fast one." Each meeting is ended with a stunt which leaves the members in a happy state of mind and makes them realize that they have spent a very pleasant and profitable afternoon at the meeting.

CONTEST SPEAKERS

The Extemporaneous Speaking Group was organized to meet the student desire for a group in which those interested in speaking before an audience could develop their speaking ability and secure the broader experience and benefits of contest work. Regular meetings provide for a free exchange of ideas on public questions,—economic, social, and political. As a result, many members of the group have trained to become successful speakers in various speech contests. Some of the contests have included not only extemporaneous speaking but also oratorical declamations.

This speech group does not exist as a club, but as a "once-a-week" class that conducts its own program under the supervision of Mr. Ramsay of the Public Speaking Department.

MUSIC

Music has been increasingly popular in recent years. Such has been the case with the musical organizations at Oak Park High. The band, in playing at the football games and other athletic events during the past year, brought the crowds cheering to their feet with its popular and lively music. Then when the Christmas season rolled around, the concert band, orchestra, and choruses, in the spirit of the season produced the eagerly awaited Christmas Music Festival. In January, the concert and marching bands combined in what proved to be a very successful Popular Concert. Meanwhile, the orchestra was not idle. It was busy preparing for both the Girls' Club Show and the Senior Class Play. When April had come and gone, Mr. Embs, Mr. Little, and Mrs. Boynton again dusted off their concert batons and led the orchestra, band, and choruses through the usual fine May Festivals.

The work of the Music department has become closely integrated with many phases of our school. It furnishes the music for the Gym Exhibit, Commencement Exercises, Christmas Caroling and similar events. No wonder the musical organizations are of ever increasing popularity at Oak Park High School.

Many of the meetings are made more pleasant by inviting professional artists to perform. This often encourages talented members of the club to give demonstrations of their skill. This is a club that always works in and with harmony.

SENIOR ANNUAL EDITORS

STANDING: Train, Beverly, Buenik, Smith, Weess. SEATED—Gnaedinger, Sindelar, Ellett, Morse, Moe, Shinn, Mattmiller, Neely.

With a sigh of relief we lay aside our pens and paste brushes. Another Senior Annual has gone to press, and Miss Turner, taking over for her first year, has led the Tabula on to another triumph. Each year, after a whole semester of gruelling detail, the Senior editors are chosen from a previously selected Junior Staff. These chosen few strive to turn out an annual which will completely eclipse those which have gone before. We know you'll like this one.

LITERARY TABULA STAFF

Twice a year the Literary Tabula Staff publishes a magazine which contains the literary work of the students. Although we are conscious of them only on these two occasions, do not suppose that they are idle all the year. From September until after the last Tabula goes to press, this staff, as well as Miss Davis's and Miss Hardie's Fresh-Soph Staff, is busy sorting literary gems—stories, essays, poems, book reports. Selected by Miss Burt and Mr. Hohn after a competitive examination, these students work energetically to make this Tabula a success.

FRESH-SOPH LITERARY TABULA STAFF

STANDING—Mahassek, LeGros, Thoma, Coe.
SEATED—Emerson, Hulburt, Engstrom.

Of course every Oak Park student swells with pride whenever our Trapeze is mentioned, but perhaps he's never considered all the work which brings the Trap to him every Friday morning. The paper is edited by a staff which is selected each spring from the Junior reporters. This editing includes all the assembling, arranging, and proofreading of pictures and copy. Under Mr. Hecketsweiler's competent guidance, the editors have the Trapeze ready for the press each Thursday night.

PHOTO STAFF

Hold it!! This might well be the catchword of the Photo Staff which is busy all the year taking pictures of outstanding school events. Most of the pictures which you see in the Tabula and in the Trapeze were taken by our Photo Staff. They do all their own developing and printing, and have created a really fine system. At any hour of the day members can be found in Room 31. Mr. Lane is in charge of this staff and makes efficient photographers of every one of them.

Slash! and another hundred dollars is cut from the Tabula budget. Directed by Mr. King, the Publishing Board manages the finances and advertising of the Trapeze, the Literary Tabula, and Senior Tabula. Where money is concerned, the members of the Board are a combination of efficiency and shrewdness; and they do pay the bills.

TABULA PUBLISHING BOARD

We have mentioned and duly praised the publishing angle of the Trapeze. We now present the hardworking salesmen who persist until they get your name on the dotted line. There is an agent in every room who takes care of distributing the Trapeze every Friday morning. It is his duty to point out the special features in the Trap so that the students will subscribe to the paper.

The go-getters!! These are the students who actually go out and get the information which we read in the Trapeze. They must be present at all school activities and they make our Trap a true reflection of school life.

As you thumb through this book, you might pause occasionally to read of the drama at Oak Park High School. Perhaps a Tyrone Power or a Hedy La Marr might be discovered within our walls by a talent scout—who knows? Well, here are the facts on "How to Become an Actor in Three Easy Years."

A Sophomore who maintained an "A" average in English during his first year is privileged to join Masqueraders, the Sophomore drama club. Once in, he must uphold his "A" average or be dropped. The eight meetings throughout the year give the student an opportunity to perform. To exhibit his finesse, each student is allowed one part during the year. Masqueraders holds its meetings in the Music Hall. The officers are: President, Carolyn Swett, Vice-President, Ruth Caryl, Secretary, Frances Ingram, Treasurer, Barbara Chandler. These personages who have been elected by fellow members, seek help from the club advisors, Miss Geller and Mr. Rossiter. Students receive experience by serving on refreshment, selecting, and casting committees. Beneficial as well as amusing plays are chosen. But Sophomores become Juniors, and the curtain is drawn on the act of their Masquerading.

By joining the Junior club, Footlights, students participate in the second act. Those wishing to give their all to the drah—ma may join this three-year-old club. Its membership is limited to one hundred. Members are chosen by the faculty. The aims of the club are to give opportunities for acting, directing, and staging a play, with accompanying practice in make-up. These activities with social opportunities promote co-operation, responsibility, and citizenship. A play is given at each of the nine meetings. Students volunteer for the try-outs, but the same person is not used more than once, except in special situations. At Christmas there is a tree with Santa Claus, and gifts for everybody. This year the club has been led by: President, Joe Capouch, Vice-President, Virginia Aylward, Secretary, Vernon Vale, Treasurer, Grace Jiracek, Sergeant-at-arms, William Drennan. The faculty advisors of Footlights are Miss Graham and Miss Harrington. Again the curtain falls at the end of act two.

BACK ROW—Pilcher, Lewis, Herzog, Heald, Adams, Shorey, Mizen, Freeman. FOURTH ROW—Porter, Spelson, Vayhinger, Wilson, Kmiecik, Poplett, Daley, Sullivan. THIRD RCW—Mueller, Malow, Randall, Dunnell, Everett, Miner, Roberts, Rieser, Deeg. SECOND ROW—Christofferson, Foster, Longley, Munson, Lind, Sutherland, Golding, DeHerder, Gekler. Lucky juniors find themselves envied seniors and those still interested in the third act . . . the Drama Club. As in Footlights, there is no scholastic requirement, the members being chosen from the multitude of clamoring actors. Miss Payne, who also directs the Senior Class Play, acts as advisor. During the tedious try-outs and subsequent rehearsal of the Class Play, the meetings are discontinued. The members have, by this time acquired a commendable acting ability, and we find their shining faces amongst the class play mob. Possibly one lucky fellow will be privileged to shout, "All hail," or even, "All hail, the King." This puts a terrific strain on the individual. This year the club has been fortunate in having such officers as: President, Jack Lesh, Vice-President, Charles Schwerin, Secretary, Ruth Westcott, Treasurer, Mary Olson, Sergeant-at-Arms, James Quayle.

Two main events of the year are the Christmas Party, and the Senior Class Play Take Off. At the former, students of histrionics joyfully yodel Christmas carols and cheerfully exchange gifts in the Yuletide spirit. Then the Class Play Take Off to which all the play cast, Masqueraders and Footlights are invited, takes off. This year the task was executed under the direction of Stanley Maveety with the aid of Miss Hardie. The part of Cinderella was "filled" and overflowed by Tiny Middleton. The bored prince was played by Bob Tutwiler. The passage of a rubber tire scooting across the stage, and the efficient exhibition of how the props committee works made a hilarious performance.

Now I should like you to come backstage with me to watch how the crews work. Without them any performance would be impossible. The members work, hurrying, scurrying, hither and yon, trying to nail this board here, or fix a light there. Such activity! The stage crew works for months before the school performances, making the large parts of the scenery. When the time comes to put it up, pity the person who gets in the way. That fellow who emerged from under that pile of lumber is the head, John May. Over there we see someone deftly climbing up a ladder with a colored piece of cellophane in his hand. We turn for a second, and there he is in the balcony trying to adjust a large black gadget. It is Charles Sardeson, the head of the lights crew, who works his crew and himself to a frazzle to get the proper lighting for our plays.

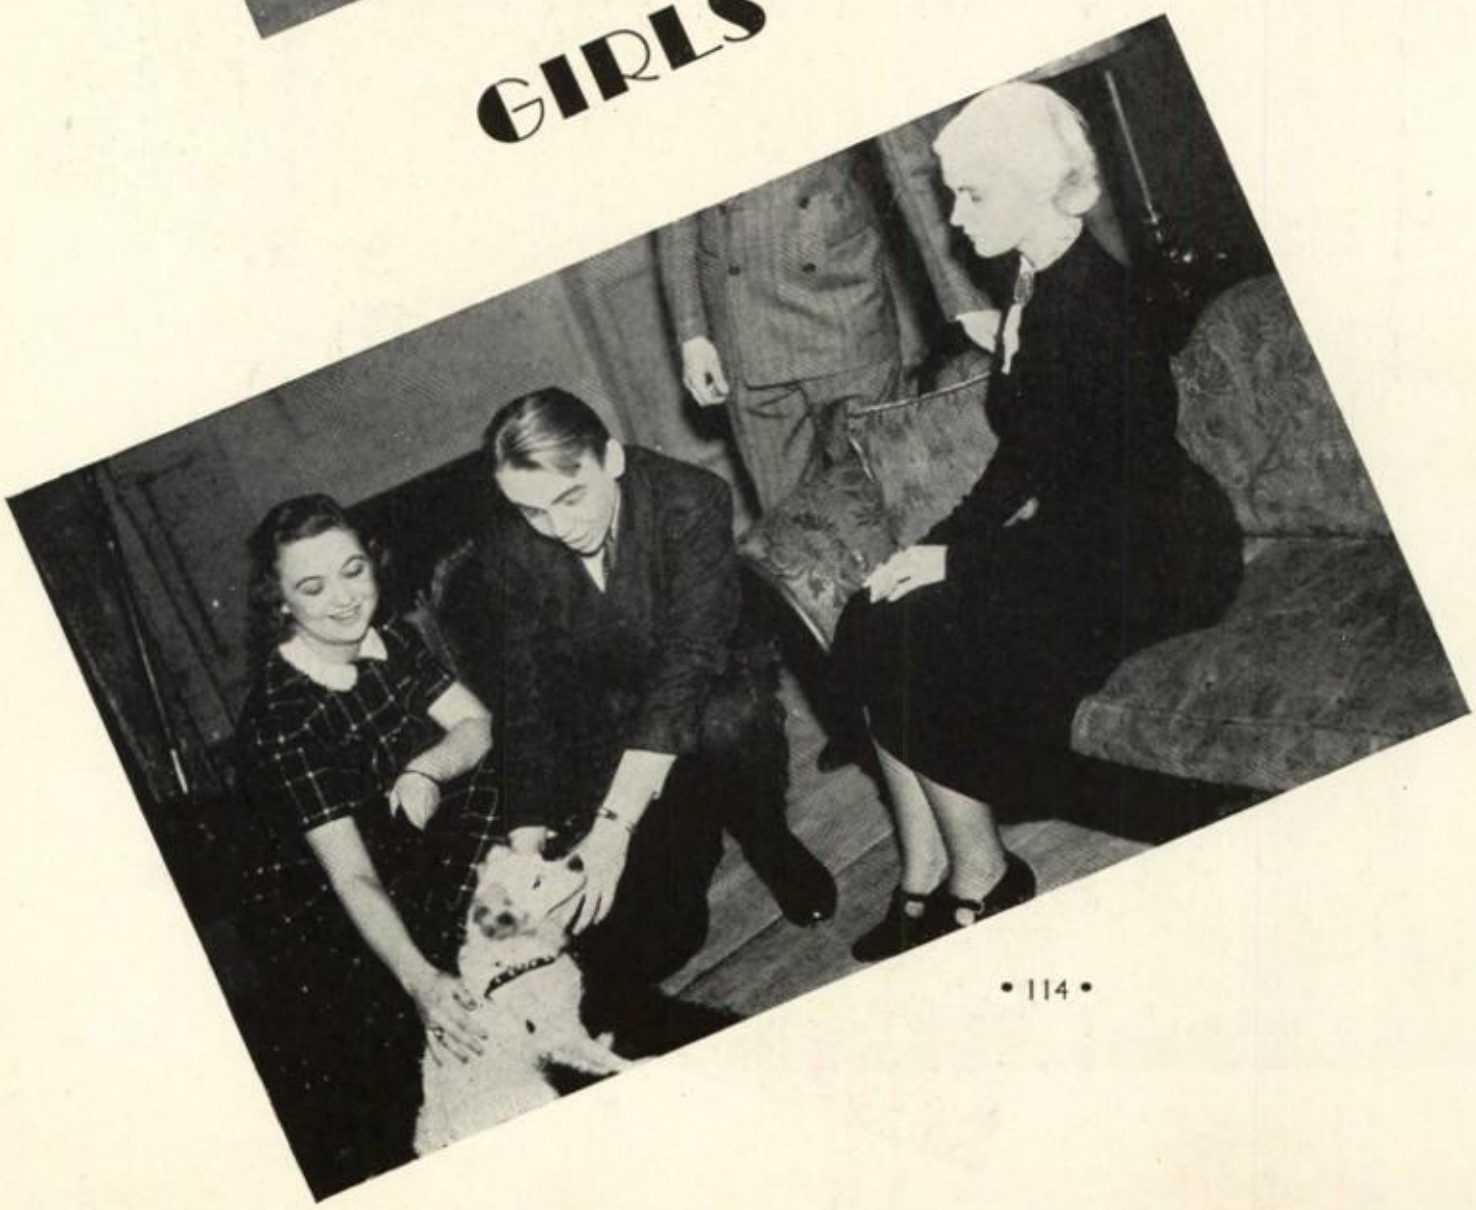
CLUB GIRLS'



AMITY

This year the Girls' Club, in collaboration with the Amity School Children's Aid, presented an excellent play entitled, "The Goose Hangs High." The dramatic director, Miss Remsburg, and the cast, made up of our students, should be congratulated on a fine performance. Two things noteworthy about this play are that it gave our students of histrionics their long awaited opportunity, and provided charity with some needed funds.

Now we reach the finale, the senior class play of 1939. Here our finest results are attained. Students that participate in this performance deserve the applause which "A Kiss for Cinderella" received.

Cinderella, a little waif of the London tenements, was portrayed by a fine actress, Grace Ellis. The senior class recognized her ability by voting her "class actress." Grace worked so hard that we soon forgot her as she took on the personality of Cinderella. Such an actress makes the Senior Class proud. Cinderella's prince had to be a strong-willed, handsome type, who could act. Chalmers Coe, as Prince Charming, made an excellent appearance on the stage, and his deep voice added tremendously to his excellent acting. Richard Burton and Warren Middleton as Dr. Bodie carried an important role with ease and ability.

Although each one in the play deserved an orchid (a bouquet to Grace) so did the members of the committees and their heads. The audience does not have an opportunity to applaud their efforts, but they cannot go unheralded. This year there were seventeen members of the faculty directing these committees. Miss Remsburg supervised the costumes and make-up; Miss Miller, the properties; Mr. May, the scenery; and Mr. O'Brien, the lights.

But heading the whole list is Miss Payne, the dramatic director. Merely saying that her tireless efforts to coach, to supervise, and to keep unity made the play a success is hardly adequate. The cast in its small way presented her with an orchid. and the audience in applauding the actors, applauded her. She has directed all Senior Plays for seventeen years.

Parlez-vous francais? Oui!

About 1918 Le Cercle Francais was organized in Oak Park High School. Having been discontinued and reorganized once or twice it was again placed among the active clubs last year. This year its fifty-five members indicate its popularity among the French students.

One difficulty in organizing a club of this kind is the detailed preparation needed before a meeting can run successfully. Because the majority of the French students are in the first and second year, the club membership is confined to these two French classes. This fact makes the main obstacle even greater as nearly all the members are beginners.

This year, the first semester meetings were filled with songs, games and dialogues. French people were called in to speak their native tongue to the enthusiasts. The second semester the club centered around French drama. (Perhaps not Moliere, but at least entertaining.) At one time they combined with Masqueraders to match dramatic wits.

"Hey, Bert, have you been to Papua or Pago Pago since we last met?"—You might hear such lingo as this if you happened to look in the door where Stamp Club was meeting. Here are gathered the truly adventurous in spirit—if not in body—who travel over the known (and sometimes unknown to them) earth on postage stamps of various colors and shapes. Excitement runs high when a rare stamp comes to light. As for stamp trading and the auctioning of stamps—the keenness of the proverbial horsetrader pales into insignificance next to the acumen of these stamp enthusiasts.

If you sit in on a debate of two ardent philatelists, you may hear them discussing relative merits of design and value of various stamps. On the other hand, if an outsider is speaking before the club, he may throw a colorful light on history through the knowledge of stamps.

If you haven't been infected with the stamp bug virus, you may find it catching when you, as a mere onlooker, wander up and down before the exhibit of the Stamp Club. Right now, the club is doing a nice bit of work in the finishing of a stamp catalogue for our school library.

The strong odor of hydrogen sulphide filled the room. A speaker had just completed the demonstration of the commercial process used in the manufacture of this gas. Chemistry Club meeting bi-monthly has many of these profitable and beneficial programs. Outstanding men from the field of commercial and professional chemistry frequently appear before the club. Occasionally entertainment of a lighter strain is provided for the members. At these meetings Professor Quiz contests made especially for the club add an element of humor to the ordinary routine.

Not everyone is eligible for this organization; only those carrying at least a "B" average in chemistry may join. The club's 48 members unanimously agree it is a privilege to participate in activities such as this.

One of the more interesting and educational organizations in school is Zoology Club. The five meetings each year, designed to meet the interest of all the members touch upon various fields. At one meeting a demonstration of how to make museum mounts was given by the curator of the Museum Academy of Science. This proved to be one of the highlights of the year. Of equally interesting nature was a lecture on silver foxes by the president of the Illinois Fox Breeders Association. Illustrated lectures on ants and spiders by most able men also brought great satisfaction to these enthusiastic zoology students.

Although Zoology Club has fewer meetings than most other organizations, each is so carefully planned that the members find they are provided with sufficient food for thought for the entire month.

There was once a time when young ladies' conversation was an incoherent jumble of receipts, needlepoint, crocheting, dress-making, and assorted feminine objets-d'art, but it seems that those days are gone forever, at least around Oak Park-River Forest High School. Now the young ladies of this generation deftly, nimbly, and authoritatively discuss shutters, lenses, focal points, hypo, filters, panchromatic, densities, balance, composition, just to mention a few terms that make up the jargon of photography.

If anybody at all is to be considered well versed in the art of photography, it is surely the Girls' Camera Club. Its members can shoot subjects that would turn "Life" green with envy. For concrete proof of this ability I would suggest a few minutes' glance at their work which is exhibited at the end of every year.

Even considering their weekly visits to the dark room and the outside speakers which they have from time to time, these girls are still called amateurs, but they could probably show Daguerre a thing or two about this pin-hole camera and its operation.

The Boys' Camera Club of Oak Park High School is organized for the boys who are ardent camera fans. Through careful selection, a limited number of photographers become members and immediately enter into the activities of this interesting organization. The formal meetings of the club are centered around a variety of activities. In the darkroom the members learn the finer points of developing, printing, and enlarging. Sometimes movies are shown. At other times they have lectures on prints, cameras, and artists. At the end of each year a salon is arranged where the finer works of art taken by members are exhibited. In addition to its regular meetings, the members of the club perform a valuable service to the school. All of the pictures of school activities: clubs, athletics, music, drama, and many others are taken by staff members. Next fall when you see a boy running along the yard markers of the football field carrying a large camera, exposuremeter, extra film, and all such necessary paraphernalia, kneeling at the side of the swimming pool holding a flash bulb, or on the sidelines of the basketball floor avidly waiting for the chance to take a good action shot, you can rightly say to yourself, "There goes a member of the Boys' Camera Club."

SPORTSMEN'S

"Our speaker today is to talk to us on the important subject of conservation." These were the words heard by the members of Sportsmen's Club on one of their Tuesday meetings.

Some of us who are not well acquainted with any Sportsman may wonder how conservation would enter into their meetings. We associate the title sportsman with hunting, fishing, and the destruction of wild life. But to a real outdoor enthusiast like Mr. Pinckney, the preservation of nature is of vital importance. The rapidly decreasing wild life, the depleted forests, and the general widespread destruction of natural resources has become a problem of great concern to those interested in the outdoors and to our Sportsmen's Club.

This club deals also with the other phases of outdoor life. Programs are arranged to cover such subjects as fishing, camping, and hunting. Boys with an interest in the outdoors find in Sportsmen's Club a real opportunity to increase their knowledge, and to meet other boys with common interests.

Brooks Club, named for Phillips Brooks, at one time one of America's great preachers, is organized to further interests of religious education. There are twelve meetings held during the year, four of which are particularly outstanding. The first of these is the Mothers' Tea. Another highlight is the Christmas program with which there is an impressive candle light service. The subject of social service work is discussed at one of the other meetings. Possibly however, nothing draws so much attention as the picnic given at the end of the year. Members eagerly look forward to this last meeting which serves as a fitting climax to the club's activities.

The newest group in school is the Art Service Club. Although it was organized toward the middle of the first semester, it has already proved to be an asset to both the school and its members.

At the meetings, held every other Tuesday, the members of Art Service Club get together and create such work as library illustrations, club posters, and numerous announcements. This work not only helps the appearance of the class rooms but gives to the members added experience in certain types of art work.

Not the least of Art Service Club's accomplishments this year has been the making of posters done at Christmas time for many rooms throughout the school. These decorations aroused much interest and favorable comment among the faculty and students.

Although a new organization in the school, Art Service Club has made a definite place for itself in student activities.

The Senior Hi-Y is a long-established institution in Oak Park High. It is composed of chosen junior and senior boys who endeavor to develop characters worthy of future good citizens. This organization offers many services both to the school and to the community. At Christmas time the members of Hi-Y gather old or broken toys and devote evenings and some time after school to repairing and remaking them. As a result of their efforts Santa Claus visits many places he would otherwise miss. Movies on various subjects and lectures by men well qualified to speak to boys round out the meetings. The officers and advisors of this club arrange interviews for the older members who are interested in obtaining positions in the workaday world. Such worthwhile activities satisfactorily round out the Senior Hi-Y which will long remain in our roll of excellent and worthy clubs.

"Quae cum ita sint"—such words as this that the famous Roman orators were wont to utter can be heard at any Latin Club meeting. In fact, should you happen to catch a glimpse of what goes on, you might well imagine you were living back in the time of old Rome.

The club is particularly interested in the study of Roman life and customs. In accordance with this idea, their meetings have dealt with the origin of many every-day customs. For instance, one of special interest to all was centered about the origin of Valentine's Day. As a special climax to the club's activities a Roman dinner is served, just as it was done in the ancient times. The participants are dressed in togas, and the entire ceremony is performed, adhering closely to the old Roman custom.

It is interesting to note that the Latin Club is usually the first stepping stone in a brilliant high school career. Membership in this club is indeed an honor, and is much sought after by freshman Latin students.

Fifteen times a year forty aspiring authoresses gather under the expert advisorship of Miss Allen to discuss literature in general and their own literary genius in particular. This group is commonly known as the Story Club of Oak Park High. The junior and senior "buds" of "literary society" spend much of their time reading and criticizing manuscripts scribbled by their sister Storyites. Some are good and some are pretty bad. Moreover, I expect that the authoresses hear just where their work falls in the estimation of their colleagues. Besides this very serious activity, a section of each meeting is devoted to stunts. Through this means the nervous tension brought about by deep literary thought is relieved (or something!) At the close of each meeting, as is the custom in every good club, all rush to the lunch room for the universal pleasure of eating.

W9BMQ, calling W9BMQ.

This is W9BMQ, Oak Park High School, speaking. Go ahead!

Yes, there is an amateur radio station in our high school operated by the members of the Radio Club. It may not be the most modern in its equipment, but it does serve to acquaint the younger and more inexperienced members of the club with the practices and proceedings of an amateur station.

Interested in all branches of the field, they, at one meeting, go to the Chicago City Airport where they see and hear the communications between the landing field and the huge transports coming in and going out.

When the boys want to see the last minute in radio equipment, they go perhaps to the State Police Station, WQPC.

If a member is particularly interested in research or reading merely for pleasure, the club maintains a library of modern magazines and publications. Also, a prospective operator, through this library, can be helped a long way in obtaining his amateur license.

This is station W9BMQ signing off!

Science Club offers an opportunity to all first year people who want to participate in school activities. That few people pass that opportunity by can be seen by the large membership. There are usually between sixty or seventy boys and girls in the club each semester. This fact can possibly be better understood when a description of what goes on at these bi-monthly meetings is given. For example, one of the more interesting demonstrations consisted of producing low temperatures. In connection with this, mercury was frozen, and a mercury hammer was made. They also have meetings dealing with the chemistry of metal and oxidation in industry. Of a still different nature were the talks given on the propagation of plants and soil conservation.

One fact which is particularly noteworthy is that the meetings are all put on by the membership. Such experience will be of inestimable value to the new Freshman in developing his leadership. It can truly be said that Science Club offers advantages that should not be ignored.

AVIATION CLUB

It is rumored in the higher aviation circles that our Aviation Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Brinkman will contribute many candidates to Aviation's Hall of Fame.

Seven times a semester our twenty fledglings, students of aerodynamics, knights of the air, or "something," officially get together to hear and discuss authentic, up-to-the-minute news in commercial and private aviation besides planning student controlled programs, contests and enjoying each other's fellowship.

Outstanding meetings are the contests which are held several times during the semester to give the members an opportunity to fly their model planes in competition with each other, as well as to demonstrate their understanding of the principles of Aviation.

The major event of the year is the outdoor model plane flying contest and picnic held at Pal-Waukee. In such atmosphere it's easy to believe that the members of the Aviation Club will surely fill tomorrow the places of today's Lindbergh, Howard Hughes, and our non-excelled army, navy, and marine flying corps.

There are some people who despise mathematics merely because it is a school subject. There are others who, by throwing their hearts into it and forgetting their prejudices, come to find immense pleasure and fun by working mathematical problems. Our Newton Club, named after the famous scientist, is composed of such people.

At times the meetings are made up chiefly of playing mathematical games, or sometimes the members get before them a statement such as 1=2. You know, of course, that this is false. Yet some member of the club might prove it to you right before your eyes, and it is no optical illusion.

They have some very excellent speakers, who talk about mathematics as applied to various phases of our life. Mr. Owen gives instructive talks such as "How to Use a Slide Rule." The Newtonites had no idea how a slide rule could save mathematical "stiches."

In this past year the club has increased greatly in popularity. The first semester saw twenty-eight members while during the second semester twenty new members joined bringing the club a grand total of forty-eight members.

BOYS' ATHLETICS

MAJOR SPORTS

There are a number of sports for which major monograms are awarded.

The Varsity Football team started out the fall season of 1938 by defeating Riverside in the traditional opener seven to nothing. Coach Holmes inaugurated the entire team replacement system thus keeping enough players fresh to wear out the opponents in plunging, passing, and crashing their way through every game. This resulted in their taking the Suburban League Championship. Led by Captain John Warmbold, the team had excellent cooperation through all the games. In spite of the fact that the average size of the players of the team was small, the fellows proved beyond a doubt that "You can't keep a good team down."

The Soccer team got off to a bad start with a green team and the return of only a few letter men from the previous championship team. However, through the good leadership of Co-captains Richard Willing and Charles Sardeson, the team was whipped into shape, finishing the season in high spirits, winning nine games and tying one out of the total nineteen games. The team under Coach Wood showed true sportsmanship when their goalie Paul Tyrrell was injured and unable to play in most of the games of the season. With such material the Woodmen should turn out a championship team in 1939.

The Varsity Basketball team, led by Co-Captains Bob Sellergren and Ted Esser, started off the season with a bang, and dribbled through at a clipping pace to win fourteen games out of a total seventeen games. They tied with Morton for the Suburban League Championship. The high spot in the season was in the game between Morton and Oak Park at Oak Park. Coach Scott's Cagers crept up to, tied, and beat Morton by one point all in the last few minutes of the game as the crowd went wild, and figuratively raised the roof off the field house.

The Varsity Swimming team went through the league schedule winning every meet except one which was lost to the New Trier tank men. The Co-captains were Morton Monson and Bruce Olson. Coach Smith's natators, crippled by a flu epidemic during the Suburban League meet, took a third place. The team on the whole was the best balanced one in five years. The freestyle promises to be exceedingly strong next year.

Coach Foster's Varsity nine have played seven games thus far, and have won five. The batsmen are coming along in fine form. The team should have a successful season.

As we go to press the Varsity Track team, with Fred Spaulding as Captain, has won all of the indoor meets in the Suburban League schedule. In the Oak Park Relays, however, Oak Park came in second, and in the League Meet third.

Those boys who have won a major monogram in any sport are entitled to membership in the Monogram Club. This is an advisory body for the sports of Oak Park High School. Its main objective is to promote good sportsmanship in interscholastic and intramural athletics through discussion of these subjects which are taken up at their meetings. Volunteers from among the club members are chosen to usher at different sports events. One occasion to which the members look forward is the joint meeting of the year held with Atalanta, the girls' sports club, at which there is a special program and usually an outside guest speaker. Membership in Monogram Club with its high ideals of sportsmanship and fair play is the aim of every athlete.

MINOR SPORTS

The J. V. football team, captained by Bob Olson, showed its ability by winning every game in its schedule, and by being scored against only once.

Another football team, the Fresh-Soph, was hammered into shape last fall. The team coached by Mr. Souchek won six games, tied one, and lost one out of the total eight games played. Under Captain Linnell Bock the Fresh-Soph team won second place in the Suburban League.

The undefeated Lightweights, guided by Coach Harshbarger, won every game except one which was a tie, six to six, and were scored against only once.

Out of eleven games the J. V. basketball team won six, a majority. The "thinclads," captained by Ray Peterhans and coached by Coach Gocker, had good cooperation.

The Sophomore basketball team met with misfortune this season, and won only six of their seventeen games. Coach Noth, however, gave the boys some real work-outs.

The Freshman basketball team is definitely one to watch in the near future. Captained by Walter Schmidt, it made a good showing by winning six out of its eleven games.

Coach O. E. Smith's Splashers, namely the Fresh-Soph swimmers, did their part this year by winning five out of seven swimming meets. But in spite of this good record, they were able to capture only a fourth in the League Meet.

The Fresh-Soph baseball team has just started its season playing only three games. The team, coached by Mr. Asbury, has lost one game, but looks forward to sunnier skies.

As I write this copy the night before the deadline, I scan the Fresh-Soph track records and find a powerful set of tracksters this year. Coached by Mr. Woodruff and captained by Gordon Wathall the team has won every one of the indoor meets, including the Suburban League Meet.

The "tee-men" have started off the Golf season by winning all the meets they have played by a definite margin.

The "racqueteers" have met with three schools so far and have defeated all three. The team, led by co-captains Harry Lydiard and Jim Quayle has both a good doubles and singles combination. Coach Noth expects a championship team.

INTRAMURALS

Since their inauguration, Intramural Sports have been very rapidly gaining in popularity. There are now fourteen different Intramural Sports which are managed by Coach Scott. Most of the games are played between home rooms, the winners becoming Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman champions. The sports are open only to the boys who have not earned a monogram in that sport. Intramural Sports give opportunities for team play to a great many boys who would probably otherwise have no opportunity for this type of recreation. In addition, through this competition, coaches can pick out prospective material for Interscholastic Teams. Many splendid players have been selected from these teams, a fact which proves their importance to the school. That Intramurals will undoubtedly become a very important factor in the sports of O.P.H.S. in the future can be seen by the hundreds of boys participating in them this year.

Atalanta is the Girls' Athletic Association in high school. In order to become a member, a girl must earn a sufficient number of points by keeping health rules, by participation in various sports—team and individual—by passing the First Aid or Life-Saving tests, and by passing posture examinations. In order to remain in the club from semester to semester, a girl must continue these activities.

Outstanding meetings of Atalanta this year have been a Penny Carnival, a Christmas party for settlement children, and the annual banquet at which the officers for next year were invested. The girls especially enjoyed having charge of the decorations and arrangements for the Football Dance.

Terpsichore welcomes to its membership any girl who is talented in the art of dancing, and who has completed eight weeks of rhythm work in school. The weekly meetings, under the guidance of Miss Gogle, are devoted to creative dancing, the monthly to reports on topics which are of special interest to the club.

Outstanding meetings of Terpsichore this year have included the Maypole dancing at the May Breakfast, and a trip to see Martha Graham. When the girls saw Miss Graham, they not only were introduced to the famous dancers, Doris Humphrey and Charles Weidman, but also profited greatly by a lesson from them.

"there is a tide"

"_____ which taken at the flood leads on to fortune" is still as true today as when it was written. And no better advice can be given graduates. To all of them will come opportunities. Whether or not these opportunities can be ridden to fortune depends most frequently on the power of saved money. A constant habit of living within the income not only creates a working capital fund, but it frees the saver from the ever present worry which dogs the steps of the less frugal, keeping their attention from the progressive steps which they must plan in order to win honor and position in a busy world.

A Message to Students

INTERESTED IN THEIR PERSONAL FUTURE . . .

Hence, we make available to students just out of high school the facilities of a school that will train and prepare them for the fulfillment of their aims in their particular aspirations.
